Exchange Students

A FAR AWAY PLACE WITH A STRANGE SOUNDING NAME! THAT IS WHAT THE ISLAND OF ALAMEDA IS FOR THESE EXCHANGE STUDENTS, STAYING HERE AND ATTENDING ALAMEDA HIGH SCHOOL THIS YEAR. FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD, THEY NOT ONLY TAKE IN WHAT IS MOST "AMERICAN" ABOUT THE TEEN AND FAMILY EXPERIENCES THEY HAVE HAD, BUT ALSO BRING THEIR UNIQUE CULTURAL PERSPECTIVES TO INTERACTIONS WITH ADULTS AND TEENS HERE. THEY LEARN AND WE LEARN, TOO.

- Jim Peters

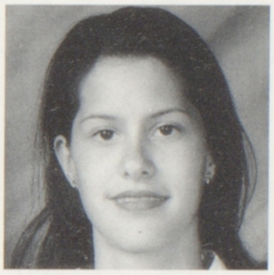
Très bien! Philip Bintaro participated in a teaching program of his French class at Haight Elementary.

Having a blast at the Senior Banquet, Yelena Busovikova poses for the camera with Hillary Acmoody and Tiffany Beeler.

Hangin' out in the halls, Karolina Weissman spends time with Chrissy McClure and Josh Bally.

Elia-Maria Cuellar, Colombia: It is very difficult to get used to a new culture, language and environment. It is not easy to be far away from home and friends. However, I have had a great experience and learned about different things.
"Mi pais, espectacular. Lo mas importante, el color de gente y el apoyo. Todos deberian ir a conocerto y cambiar ca mala imagen que tienen de el." - My country is amazing. The most important things are the people and the support. Everybody should go there and change the bad ideas, the bad news they have heard of. Columbia is not drugs, it is everything.

Maricruz Vega, Mexico: Mexican schools are much harder. I am more independent and I have to make my own decisions.
"Mèxico, es un pais maravilloso, y no deberian pensar y Mèxico es solo Puerto Vallarta o Tijuana. Es muchisimo más' y deberian visitarlo. Adios." - Mexico, it's wonderful. You should not think that it is only Puerto Vallarta or Tijuana. It is even more, and you should visit. Bye bye.



Alex Bouvet, France: It is harder in France, I like it here. I don't like school in France because it's hard. The teachers are more boring.
"La France est un très beau pays." - France is a beautiful country.

Karolina Weissman, Germany: I am actually from Poland. I was born there, and I also grew up in Poland. In 1989 I moved with my family to Germany. The school system is very different than in Germany and Poland. A day in school in the United States seems like it would never end. But that's O.K. I will be going home in June. I will have to say good bye to my friends and host family. I bet I am going to miss them a lot.
"Ich wünsche dir einen guten Tag. Zycze Ci dobre go i slonecznego dnia." - Have a great day.

Yelena Busovikova, Russia: Classes are mixed here. There can be Sophomores and Juniors in a class. You can choose your own classes. In Russia, everything is required. Students feel more free here. They can stand up during class and drink and eat. They wear whatever and they sit on the floor. The only thing strict about school here is attendance.
"Russia is not communist anymore. It is a free and beautiful country with its religion, architecture, culture, fashion and warm people. You are welcome to visit it any time. Love Yelena."

Philip Bintaro, Germany: Although many people say that American High Schools are easy, I cannot agree completely. AP Bio or AP Calculus are definetly not easy. The system in Germany is totally different. For example, attendance is handled more liberally. A note from your parents to the teacher is enough.
"An dieser Stelle möchte ich allen danken, die mir geholfen haben; mein besonderer Dank gilt meinen Eltern und meiner Gastfamilie." - I would like to thank everybody who has helped me, especially my parents and my host family.

Lord Brockhurst and his lovely Lady, played by Aaron Stough and Liana Ramos practice their scene.

While the rest of us are in class there is something spectaculor going on in the little theater. A transformation of faces and personalities turn into what we see when we walk in, sit down and wait for the show to start. It takes time to learn the lines and the proper staging. But in the end it all comes together into what goes on starting at 7:30 (unless they're late) ending when it does. These talented few have a uniqueness about them they all love to share. These are the few who bring the theater to life.

"Freshman year I did my laundry for the first time. My mom finished it for me and when I woke up I was too tired to look at what I was wearing. I went to school and then after school I went to football and was changing in the locker room. The team started throwing things at me and I had no idea why. I looked around and then saw that my underwear were pink!!!"

- Stacen Steinhoff

"KELLIE AND I WERE SHOPPING ONE DAY AND I DID SOMETHING REALLY STUPID. I WENT TO GRAB A CASE OF COKES THEN THEY ALL JUMPED OUT OF MY HANDS. IT WAS RIGHT IN FRONT OF THE STORE AND SOME EXPLODED ON PEOPLE'S SHOES AND SOME ROLLED OUTSIDE. IT TOOK TOO LONG TO PICK UP AND WE ATTRACTED MORE ATTENTION BY LAUGHING."

HEATHER MULDAU

Life's not fun until you get a little red !!!

"One day I was walking by the pool and said ' Hello fellows .' One said sarcastically 'Thank you .' One was a female . I got bright red and bolted out of there ."

- Mr. Hakim

the one teacher that acts like a senior . . .

"I was walking in Super K Mart with my Grandma doing our usual bargain shopping. I had my new bubba gump shoes on when I accidentally stepped in a blue carrying basket and slipped down the aisle.

Everybody looked and laughed at me while I was lying helplessly on the floor."-Kristie Reed

'It was my first day at high school and I thought I was the bomb sitting up at the circle. I was with my science class talking to my girlfriend. Then I felt a weird feeling on my head it was kinda wet and slippery. Everyone looked at me, all because I had bird caca on my head. The next day my girlfriend dumped me and I was called poopoo head. '

- Rich Crutchfield

"I was making fun of a dog one day and the dog bit my rear end. Then my Mom started laughing at me and never lets me forget that moment."

John McLaughlin

His first impression of his last year

"I was coming down the hallway in a rush after school. I tripped over my shoelace and fell from the top stair all the way down. I hit my head on the wall and as I looked around before I got up I saw my crush looking dead at me. "

Ray Gilbert

"I was playing in a basketball game against Castlemont High my sanitary napkin busted and cotton trailed behind me as I ran down the court. Stacy Chinn pointed it out to me but I denied it and said I was off my period."

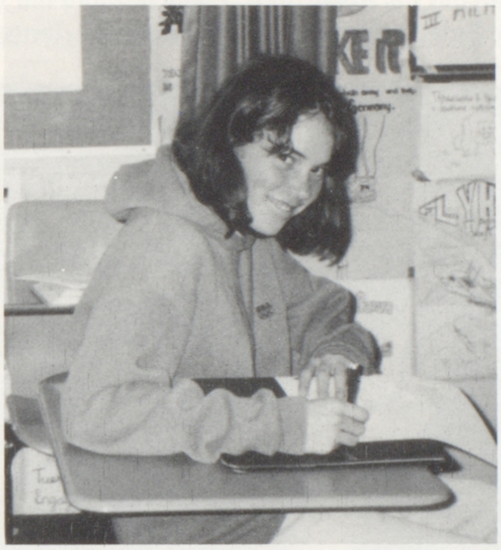
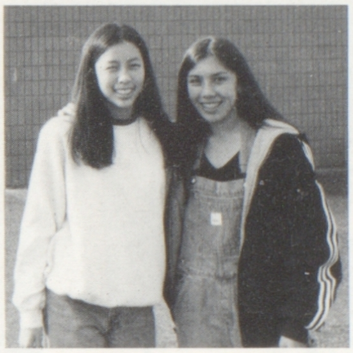
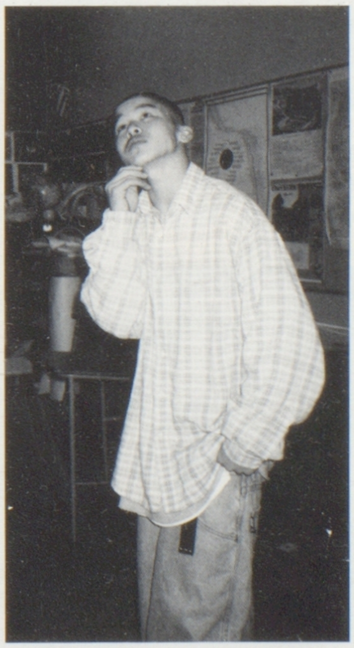
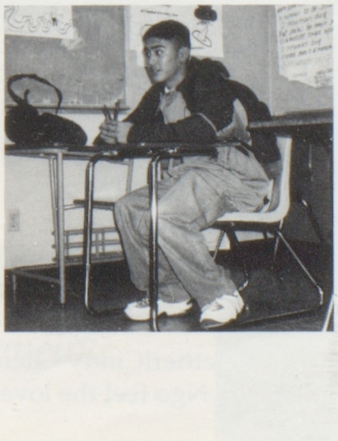
HOW MANY
HORNETS
DO YOU SEE









Whats up?Sopomore Lauren H. askes everyone.

You should be dancing! Jason Kramer and his frosh date take the time to dance.

He's all mine!Senior Anita Sanchez and her date outside the dance.

Can you feel the love tonight? Dafina Daily and her date do.

I will survie! Robert Lupo and Ezzie F. shake their groove thing at the ball!

Aren't we a cute cuple? Heath Madison and Hilary Acmoody pose for the camera.

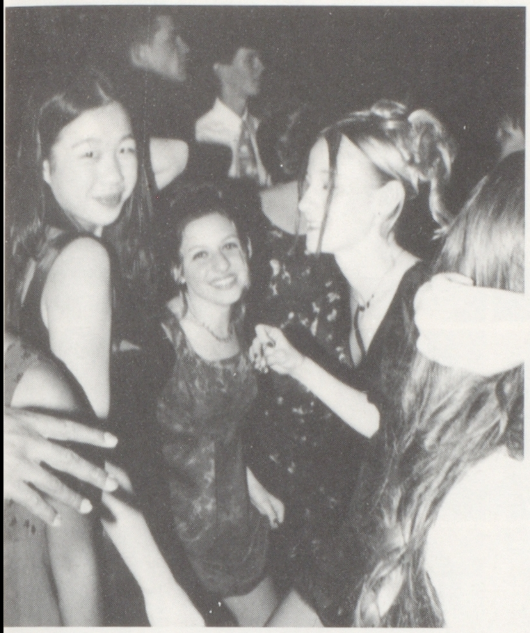
STAYING ALIVE! Julie Vong khamchan knows how to work her dancing skills at the winter ball. She knows how to get down and funky.

Do I smell?Kako askes if she's sure or unsure while dancing.

We go together!Cindy Chen and Kevin Ngo feel the love.

Friends forever! Stacey Berman and Danielle Viera share a memerable moment.

"Dreaming The Night Away"



Dancing the night away are Lydia Li, Nina Helman, and Tiffany Peters.

Most embarrasing moment.....

At the dance this year a certain someone in order to look a little better at the dance decided to have a little help from her wonder bra and while dancing the night away and didn't realized that she no longer had anywonder in her at the end of the night.

Groovin' to the beat, Blaire and Robert Lang enjoy a dance together at the winter ball.

"Are we having fun yet?" By the end of this special evening the answer from Erin Barhaugh and Mike Knudsen will be... YES!!

This year winter ball was held on January 30 in the Larry Patton gym.The dance was held by the sophomore class and for them it was a great success.The gym was beautifully decorated with blue,gold,and white streamers with ribbon and balloons. The d.j did a great job and had everyone dancing there butts off.

Frosh First Day!

Keeping In Touch

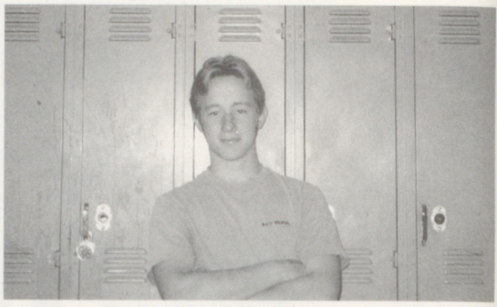
"Lunch time was always an unmemorable experiance" -Jessica Munoz

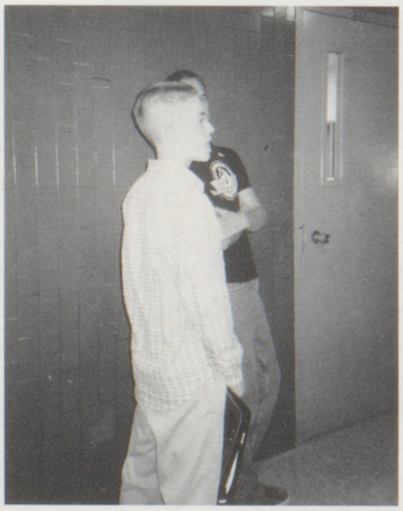
"Being on the freshman football team was a good time" -Justin Carns



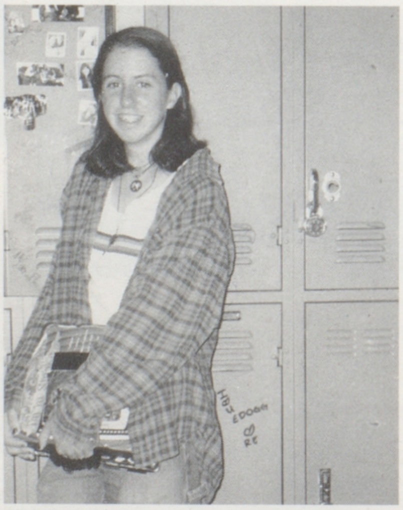
Don't get lost! Megan Colgan studys her schedule to make sure she doesn't get lost.

What's so funny Rheanna Burdette? You must have some classes with Christina Phelps.

What's my combonation? Lori Dulong checks out her lock to see if it works.



"Whatcha starin' at" We ask C.A Ibanez.



"Looking good"! Tala Drzewiecki gives a good smile for the camera.

Even though Freshmen

get little or no respect from their peers they still got the spirit.

Freshmen look confused on their first day. They don't know what to say or where to go. They see Sophmores, Juniors and Seniors who know it all and then it's them. The class of 2000 had and excellent year they will have many more to come.

SmilIn' wide! Amy Thieme and Jessie Robinson smile big.

they speak...

My senior year (1977!) I voted for the motto, "Life is what you make it." Instead, my class chose some cheesy love-song line. Still, I firmly believe life is what you make it. Believe in yourself, expect the best, make a positive effort, and you'll achieve your heart's desires. Be a whiner, and you won't!

Having your whole life ahead of you is both frightening and exhilirating. Carve out some space for yourself. Give the planet heartfelt energy and similar energy will return to you.

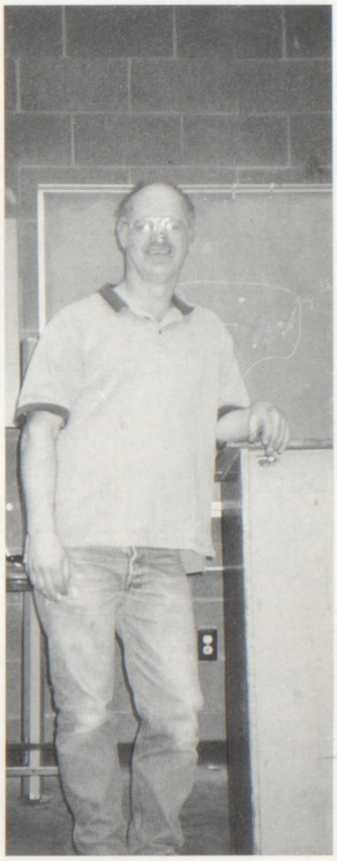
You are a wonderful senior class; I will miss you. Please come back to say "Hi!"

May the Force be with you.

--Lynn Kameny--

"Education is a want or need to fullfill someone's happiness. From the time someone is born to the time they are no longer here on earth, they learn something everyday, including teachers".
•Mr. Potter

Take risks. There is nothing wrong with making a mistake if you learn from it.
• Ms. Cunningham



I appreciate this opportunity to communicate to the following to all the students at Alameda High School. Each one of you is ultimately the only one responsible for your own education. Teachers are here to help, but we are only a tiny part of your education. Think about your goals and what you will need to do to achieve what you want for your life. No one knows your full potential; if your past has not been what you wanted, change what you need to now so that your future will be what you desire. You can achieve that which you are willing to work toward.

My best wishes,

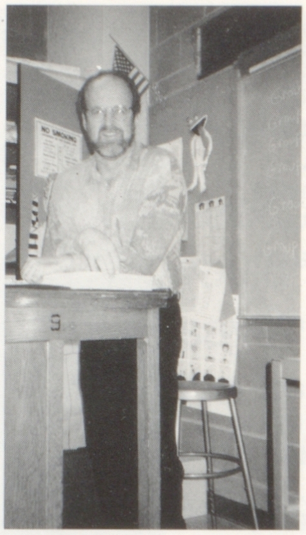
they speak some more...

In 1860, giant redwoods covered 2 million acres of coastal California. Today 96% of these ancient trees have been logged.

A redwood forest is an ecosystem where living trees rely on nutrients from decomposing trees to regenerate. Without these "dead" trees and a buffer zone of other trees to protect them from harsh weather, these trees wouldn't grow to great heights.

The Headwaters forest in Northern California contains the world's largest unprotected virgin redwood groves. This forest is owned by a lumber company who cut down the whole forest, if people who cared about it didn't lobby their representatives and attend rallies to help protect these trees.

•Charlene Milgrim



The most important things learned in school are not so much the projects produced or the tests taken but rather the process of performing these task well. In physical training, one works the body to make it adaptable to physical stress placed upon it. The process of school is mental training--working the mind to make it adaptable to the stress placed upon it and to face unforseen challenges in the future.

Wars have ended, riots have been avoided, and ages-old hatred has been overcome when human beings sit down to talk together face to face. It's hard to hate when you realize another's humanity because you at once understand that you and that others are one.

Humans are cerebral creatures, with over active brains. We intellectualize the world and see it as an abstraction. The danger in this is that we alienate ourselves from participating in and sharing our own lives.

You are all going on to create wonderful things-inventions, products, wealth, possessions. But things are not all there is to life. Remember to build human bridges too: especially links with "others": they share your dreams and hopes for a better future.

Alana,

You have made us all proud, because of your accomplishments and the talent with which you've been endowed. Now, you begin, a new moment in time, stopping toward the future to let your light shine.

Alana,

We are certain that nothing shall stand in your way. You showed great brilliance even as a baby.

Alana,

Now you are young woman with the intelligence and charm, yet it seems like only yesterday, when we held you in our arms.

Alana,

Go forth into the world with a sharp and open mind and with a heart that is true, let nothing kill your spirit and may God watch, guide and protect you.

Alana,

Always remember that you are loved. Remember to always carry yourself with self-respect and dignity. Treat others like you want to be treated. Never forget that you are more valuable than any treasure that is on the earth and know that you are a shinning star that represents our family's past, present, and future.

Love,
From Your Family

To my one and only,

I know that we have had many good times and had our share of bad ones but through it all you have stuck by me... Thank You. I also know that I have not given you the time and the attention that you deserve but just remember that it is true. I want to spend my lifetime only with you.

p.s. i can't believe it's true that someone like you loves me too...

Everdearest Leonel,

I know that we have been through so much together and without you I don't know how I would manage. You have stuck by my every thought, feeling, and decision and I love you for that. I have never met anyone that understood me as well as you do and cope with my many unexpected mood swings... You've been the perfect companion as well as my best friend and I couldn't imagine my life without you...

BABY

Whoopee, could she ever dance!

DIVINE

Of course, Baby D, being smart as a whip,
Did not feel confused, but instead,
Felt the Glorious Thrill she would feel every time
A Great Truth penetrated her head.

She whirled and she twirled on the tips of her toes
She unveiled an Exquisite Plie.
She crashed through the door
with a Wild Pirouette
And eagerly went on her way.

Cherish forever
what makes you unique

With a good sense of humor, she'll always be rich

Quotes from "The Saga of Baby Divine" by Bette Midler.

Congratulations, Jennifer.

Mr Peters

Between the end of August and the first week of school, I became the new Yearbook Advisor and met Tabitha and Tiffany, editors supreme. Between September and now, I learned so much about Alameda High School from this inside and in-depth point of view. Between Tiffany and Tabitha, I was uniquely placed to see both excellence in motivating people and technical expertise. Between these covers are laughs and stresses, deadlines met and many close calls. Between these spaces are your ideas and plans, your '96-'97 dreams made real in ink and glue. Yearbook Staff, between me and you, wow...and whew!
